3 OBJECTIVES

3.1 Pro Bono Legal Representation

The primary objective of the Company is to provide Pro Bono legal assistance to Australians who are victims of injustice or who are being denied Natural Justice causing sickness, suffering, distress, misfortune or helplessness.

In general, Complainants seeking legal assistance will have exhausted avenues of competent legal redress and will be incapable of affording legal representation either protracted, or in many instances, otherwise.

3.2 Councils of Review

To effectively act on behalf of Complainants there will be Councils of Review established by the Company throughout Australia, each structured to receive complaints; and it will be the role of Case Assessors within these Councils to establish the veracity or otherwise of all complaints and ensure that Complainants qualify to secure the Pro Bono legal representation provided by the Company.

3.3 Regional AJT Libraries

In order to service the Pro Bono legal needs of genuine Complainants who have been assessed by Councils of Review, there will be research, advisory and legal representation centres known as Regional AJT Libraries established by the Company throughout Australia.

3.4 Established Pro Bono Services

The Company will act vigorously to ensure that it fosters a working relationship with all law firms and advocates; many already known to have an established reputation within Australia for their offering of Pro Bono legal services. This working relationship can and must be fostered for the betterment of all Australians needing Pro Bono legal assistance of the highest standard.

3.5 Private Criminal Prosecution

As a precursor to successfully assisting a Complainant who is specifically a victim of injustice, the Board may deem it necessary to appoint one of its members or another Officeholder of the Company and its Controlled Corporations to prepare private criminal charges against the perpetrator(s) of that injustice. The ensuing criminal prosecution proceedings would be initiated by the Complainant under the guidance of that Board member or other Officeholder and then passed on to a law enforcement agency within Australia at a stage sufficiently advanced to be cost and time effective for the agency and its associated prosecutors.

A successful conviction against an offender who has perpetrated an injustice will greatly enhance the Company's prospects of delivering Natural Justice to an aggrieved Complainant.

3.6 Pardons and Compensation

The Company's Pro Bono legal assistance will benefit certain victims of injustice by ensuring that their rights to a full pardon and financial compensation are secured.
